DETAILED ACTION

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 and 18, drawn to compounds, classified in class 568, subclass 719.
- II. Claims 2-11, drawn to processes using an alkene reactant, classified in class 568, subclass 719.
- III. Claims 12-14, drawn to process using a halide reactant, classified in class 568, subclass 719.
- IV. Claims 15 and 16, drawn to process using sulfonate reactant, classified in class 568, subclass 719.
- V. Claim 17, drawn to processes using an alcohol reactant, classified in class 568, subclass 719.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, III, IV or V are related as process of making and product made.

The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the processes can be used to make compounds that outside the purview of Invention I. Moreover, Inventions II-V evidence that the Invention I compounds may be prepared by more than one process.

Art Unit: 1621

Inventions II-V are related in that similar products are produced. The respective groups are distinct because each requires distinct reactants and reaction conditions. Each is carried out independently of the other.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Although the Groups were classified by the Examiner in similar areas of the U. S. classification hierarchy for purposes of restriction and assignment, a prior art search of the two groups includes different areas of literature search. A literature search of the compounds includes search of systems, such as Chemical Abstracts, whereas a literature search of the process would include a divergent searches of reference books. In the present case, and the necessary separate examining considerations would place an undue burden on the Examiner examining both groups.

Claims 1 and 18 are Markush type claims reading on independent and distinct inventions. Members of the Markush group are so unrelated and diverse that a prior art reference anticipating the claims with respect to some of the members would not render the claims obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103 with respect to all of the other members. Accordingly, if Group I is elected, applicants are required under 35 U.S.C. § 121 to provisionally elect a single disclosed and claimed species, i.e., a single compound. The provisional election will be given effect in event the claims are not found allowable, MPEP § 803.02.

Art Unit: 1621

Should applicants traverse, they should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the various species to be obvious variants. In such an instance, if the examiner finds one of the species anticipated by the art, the evidence may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103 of the other species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
